Methods of Evaluation:

At minimum, the instructor will cover content which aligns with statewide and institutional learning outcomes for the course. The instructor will measure student performance using the following:

PSC – Grading Scale		F – Grade Assignment Definition(s)
A	90 - 100%	F1: Assigned to a student who has attended throughout the entire semester and failed the course. F2: Assigned to a student who has ceased attending, missed assignment deadlines, or who has been absent beyond the allowable limit.
B+	87 - 89%
B	80 - 86%
C+	77 - 79%

C	70 - 76%	F3: Assigned to a student who has cheated on an assignment or submitted a plagiarized document.
D	60 - 69%
F	00 - 59%

Evaluations of student progress towards achieving the stated learning outcomes and performance objectives is the responsibility of the instructor, within the policies of the College and the department. Detailed explanations are included in the course supplementals developed by the instructor for each section being taught.

Final Grade Calculation

Weekly Quizzes (based off assigned readings and lecture) – (30%)

Students are required and assigned to complete one chapter test each week that will be administered through our online Canvas course that is linked to this ARH 2000 – Humanities Art course, section, and the assigned open-source text. This weekly assignment will cover lectures, readings, videos, discussion(s) and the cumulative online test for the individually assigned chapter, which is due at the ‘close’ of each week (Sunday, 11:59pm). The Canvas modules are not subject to change and student must maintain the overall scheduled pace of the course and late work will receive an overall deduction in the potential grade. Any proposed deadline extension must be approved by the instructor prior the assignments due date.

Projects/Presentations – (50%)

There will be four projects this term (you can work alone or with a partner). These will function as your midterm and final. The projects will weigh 50% of your grade. We will discuss these in-depth during class time. Please note you will be presenting in front of the class for all projects.

Attendance/Participation – (10%)

Both attendance and participation are required in this course. Students are expected to be actively involved in each class and each class discussion. Students should come to class prepared to ready to discuss the required reading. Participation is mandatory and will generate a better class environment. Remember we want to have fun and learn. Students are asked to share their thoughts and respect the thoughts and opinions of other members of the class.

Final Exam – (10%)

The Final Exam will be fully comprehensive to the ARH 2000 – Humanities Art course. The exam is based on weekly tests and course content.

Student Expectations: Students enrolled in this course can expect the following:

1. clearly identified course objectives;
2. productive class meetings;
3. a positive learning environment;
4. opportunities for appropriate student participation;
5. effective instruction;
6. positive and appropriate interactions;
7. assistance with meeting course objectives during and beyond class hours;
8. evaluation of student performance and appropriate and timely feedback; and
9. clear and well-organized instruction.

General Education Student Learning Outcomes

1. Critical Thinking: The student analyzes, evaluates, and, if necessary, challenges the validity of ideas, principles, or data in order to develop informed opinions, probable predictions, or defensible conclusions.
2. Communication: The student effectively communicates knowledge and ideas.
3. Cultural Literacy: The student demonstrates an understanding of human culture and its diversity.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Identify and explain the different forms of artistic expression connected through different times and cultures.
2. Express humanistic concepts and express knowledge of artistic expression and the influence of time and culture.
3. Demonstrate a familiarity with cultural diversity in artistic expression.
4. Compare and contrast various works of art as they span through different eras, cultures, and locations.
5. Explain the difference of works of art ranging from the ancient world to contemporary art.

Attendance / Tardiness / Withdrawal: Students are required to attend and actively engage in the online course each week and maintain an appropriate amount of participation in the presented materials and discussions. Being present, alert, contributive, and involved in the coursework is required and not limited to an asynchronous course. The following attendance policy has been implemented in the best interest of the student and is in accordance with the PSC Attendance Policy detailed in the Student Handbook.

"Attendance" is mandatory, even in an online class. You are required to log into the course at least twice a week and participate. Class participation is an important part of the learning process and is therefore expected of each student. Logging in and then immediately logging out is not "coming to class" and will not be counted as attendance. You must log in and participate; read and respond to the discussions posted, review the lecture notes and PowerPoints, participate in the practice activities, check your course email, etc.

The analytics tool within the course management system will be used to make sure students are accomplishing these tasks.

Students who do not attend during the first week of class may be withdrawn. See the No-Show Procedure for the First Week of Classes.

[F] Grade Assigned Early: A grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, may be assigned by an instructor before the end of the term, in any of the following circumstances.

After the 70th percent point of a course, an instructor may assign an F, which will appear on the permanent record, to a student who has stopped attending class. Instructors will not withdraw a student for excessive absences.

An instructor may assign a grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, at any point during the term for the student who has plagiarized or committed academic cheating of any kind.

An instructor may assign a grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, at any point during the term for the student who stops attending a course being attempted for the third time.

Academic Dishonesty Statement: Pensacola State College is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic conduct. All forms of academic dishonesty, to include plagiarism and cheating, are prohibited. Penalties for academic dishonesty include but are not limited to one or more of the following: the awarding of no credit on the assignment, a reduction in the course grade, or the assignment of a final course grade of F and removal from the course. See the College Catalog for more details:

Student Email Accounts: Pensacola State College provides an institutional email account to all students enrolled in courses for credit. PirateMail is the official method of communication, and students must use PirateMail when communicating with the College. In cases where companion software is used for a particular class, email may be exchanged between instructor and student using the companion software.

Flexibility: It is the intention of the instructor to accomplish the objectives specified in the course syllabus. However, circumstances may arise which prohibit the fulfilling of this endeavor. Therefore, this syllabus is subject to change. When possible, students will be notified of any change in advance of its occurrence.

ADA Statement: Students with a disability that falls under the Americans with Disability Act or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, it is the responsibility of the student to notify Student Resource Center for ADA Services to discuss any special needs or equipment necessary to accomplish the requirements for this course. Upon completion of registration with the Student Resource Center for ADA Services office, specific arrangements can be discussed with the instructor. Contact the Student Resource Center for ADA Services at 850-484-1637 for more information.

Equity Statement: Pensacola State College does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, ethnicity, religion, marital status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity or genetic information in its programs, activities, and employment. For inquiries regarding the College's nondiscrimination policies, contact the Executive Director of Institutional Equity and Student Conduct, 1000 College Blvd., Building 5, Pensacola, Florida 32504, (850) 484-1759.

Security Statement: Pensacola State College is committed to encouraging all members of the College community to be proactive in personal safety measures. In case of emergency, students should ensure that they are aware of the building exit closest to each of their classrooms, as well as all alternative building exits in case circumstances require using a different route.

Emergency Statement: In the case of severe weather or other emergency, the College administration maintains communication with appropriate state and local agencies and makes a determination regarding the cancellation of classes. Notices of cancellation will be made through the College's PSC Alert system and on the College's website.
