Course Description:

Provides a broad survey of geology (earth materials and processes), oceanography, meteorology, and astronomy. An introductory course primarily designed to give non-science majors a solid background of the interrelated disciplines that make up the "earth sciences."

Class Meeting Time: Distance Learning

Class Location: Distance Learning

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: Placement at the college level or completion of the appropriate exit-level developmental course(s) with a grade of C or better.

Offered: FA, SU, SP

Distribution: Meets AA General Education Core, Natural Sciences (Physical Sciences) requirement.

Required Textbooks and Instructional Materials:

The Good Earth; McConnell; 5th ed.; 2021; 9781260364125, McGraw Hill Publishing

Methods of Evaluation:

At minimum, the instructor will cover content which aligns with statewide and institutional learning outcomes for the course. The instructor will measure student performance using the following:

The grade in this course will be based on the following weighted scheme:

Assignment/Assessment	Grade percentage	Duration	Total points per task group
Attendance	4%	Untimed	40
Discussions (3@20 pts each)	6%	untimed	60
Homework assignments (10 @25 points each)	25%	untimed	250
5 exams (@100 points each)	50%	70 minutes (1 hr. 10 minutes)	500
Chapter reading and syllabus quiz (15 @10 points each)	15%	10 minutes for the syllabus quiz, 15 minutes for all others	150
Total Points for course			1000

A	90 - 100%
B+	87- 89.9%
B	80 - 86.9%
C+	77 – 79.9%
C	70 - 76.9%
D+	67-69.9%
D	60-66.9%
F	Below 60%

Student Expectations: Students enrolled in this course can expect the following:

1. Clearly identified course objectives;
2. Productive class meetings;
3. A positive learning environment;
4. Opportunities for appropriate student participation;
5. Effective instruction;
6. Positive and appropriate interactions;
7. Assistance with meeting course objectives during and beyond class hours;
8. Evaluation of student performance and appropriate and timely feedback; and
9. Clear and well-organized instruction.

General Education Student Learning Outcomes:

Critical Thinking: The student analyzes, evaluates, and, if necessary, challenges the validity of ideas, principles, or data in order to develop informed opinions, probable predictions, or defensible conclusions.

Scientific and Mathematical Literacy: The student properly identifies and applies scientific or mathematical principles and methods.

Information Literacy: The student effectively locates, evaluates, and applies information from a variety of sources.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. List and/or identify the most common elements, minerals, and rocks of the earth's crust.
2. Diagram the rock cycle and correlate rock types with the environment in which they are formed.
3. Understand the actions and interactions of external processes such as wind, weathering, mass wasting, and the general role of water on the earth's crust including streams, ice, and underground water.
4. Recognize the internal processes such as earthquakes, plate tectonics, igneous activity, mountain building and geologic structures and the theories related to these processes.
5. Discuss the geologic features of the ocean floor and explain the dynamics of the ocean floor.
6. Describe the composition and structure of the atmosphere focusing on the elements of weather in relation to earth processes.
7. Appreciate earth's place in the universe regarding the general nature of galaxies, stars, and the solar system.

Academic Dishonesty Statement:

Pensacola State College is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic conduct. All forms of academic dishonesty, to include plagiarism and cheating, are prohibited. Penalties for academic dishonesty include but are not limited to one or more of the following: the awarding of no credit on the assignment, a reduction in the course grade, or the assignment of a final course grade of F and removal from the course.
