60% - 66%	D
0% - 59%	F

Grading Calculation
Participation	20%
Essay # 1	20%
Essay # 2	20%
Essay # 3	20%
Final Exam	20%
Totals	100%

Evaluations of student progress towards achieving the stated learning outcomes and performance objectives is the responsibility of the instructor, within the policies of the College and the department. Detailed explanations are included in the course supplementals developed by the instructor for each section being taught.

[A note on the grading calculation: This course will be graded on a points-based system. There are 100 points total available, so the final grade will be the total points earned out of 100. For example, if you earn 85 points throughout the semester, your final grade is a B (85%).

The participation grade will be based on attendance and in-class participation assignments. All students begin with the full 20 points. Students can only lose participation points by missing class and not completing in-class participation assignments. Students will lose 1 point for every participation assignment missed.]

Student Expectations: Students enrolled in this course can expect the following:

1. clearly identified course objectives;
2. productive class meetings;
3. a positive learning environment;
4. opportunities for appropriate student participation;
5. effective instruction;
6. positive and appropriate interactions;
7. assistance with meeting course objectives during and beyond class hours;

8. evaluation of student performance and appropriate and timely feedback; and
9. clear and well-organized instruction.

General Education Student Learning Outcomes:

Critical Thinking: The student analyzes, evaluates, and, if necessary, challenges the validity of ideas, principles, or data in order to develop informed opinions, probable predictions, or defensible conclusions.

Communication: The student effectively communicates knowledge and ideas.

Cultural Literacy: The student demonstrates an understanding of human culture and its diversity.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. Explain the philosophical theories covered in the course.
2. Evaluate differing philosophical theories.
3. Compare and contrast differing philosophical theories.
4. Distinguish between the structures of inductive and deductive arguments.
5. Evaluate new information, methods, cultural systems, values, and beliefs in constructive ways.

Academic Dishonesty Statement:

Pensacola State College is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic conduct. All forms of academic dishonesty, to include plagiarism and cheating, are prohibited. Penalties for academic dishonesty include but are not limited to one or more of the following: the awarding of no credit on the assignment, a reduction in the course grade, or the assignment of a final course grade of F and removal from the course. See the College Catalog for more details.

Student Email Accounts:

Pensacola State College provides an institutional email account to all students enrolled in courses for credit. PirateMail is the official method of communication, and students must use PirateMail when communicating with the College. In cases where companion software is used for a particular class, email may be exchanged between instructor and student using the companion software.

Flexibility:

It is the intention of the instructor to accomplish the objectives specified in the course syllabus. However, circumstances may arise which prohibit the fulfilling of this endeavor. Therefore, this syllabus is subject to change. When possible, students will be notified of any change in advance of its occurrence.

ADA Statement:

Students with a disability that falls under the Americans with Disability Act or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, it is the responsibility of the student to notify Student Resource Center for ADA Services to discuss any special needs or equipment necessary to accomplish the requirements for this course. Upon completion of registration with the Student Resource Center for ADA Services office, specific arrangements can be discussed with the instructor.

Equity Statement:

Pensacola State College does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, color, gender/sex, age, religion, marital status, pregnancy, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or genetic information in its educational programs, activities, or employment. For inquiries regarding Title IX and the College's nondiscrimination policies, contact the Executive Director, Equal Opportunity Compliance at (850) 484-1759, Pensacola State College, 1000 College Blvd., Pensacola, Florida 32504.

Security Statement:

Pensacola State College is committed to encouraging all members of the College community to be proactive in personal safety measures. In case of emergency, students should ensure that they are aware of the building exit closest to each of their classrooms, as well as all alternative building exits in case circumstances require using a different route.

Emergency Statement:

In the case of severe weather or other emergency, the College administration maintains communication with appropriate state and local agencies and makes a determination regarding the cancellation of classes. Notices of cancellation will be made through the College's PSC Alert system and on the College's website.

Instructor Policies:

1) Attendance and Participation: Regular and punctual attendance is expected. During each class period, there will be in-class participation assignments that students must submit by the end of each class period. Students must be present in the classroom in order to complete these assignments. If a student has an excused absence, that student will be allowed to complete a make-up assignment. Otherwise, students will not be allowed to complete a make-up assignment. Excused absences will be left to the discretion of the instructor. Any class disruptions, including (but not limited to) distracting use of technology or persistent talking while the instructor or other students are speaking, could result in losing a participation point for that class and being asked to leave the class.

2) Attention in the Classroom/Technology Policy: The only technology allowed in the classroom is a laptop computer in order to view the course readings and take notes. All other technology, such as cell phones, should not be visible at any time. This includes air pods and headphones. Students will initially be warned about cell phones and airpods, but continued violations will result in a participation point being taken for each violation.

3) Late Submission Penalty for Essays: If a student submits a late essay within 24 hours after the initial due date, then that student will lose 1 point on the assignment. After 24 hours, students will start losing 2 points per 24 hour period after the due date of an assignment.

4) Instructor Contact Information: The preferred and most expedient method of contact for students is the email address listed above (lotyler@pensacolastate.edu).
