This course is not a “work at your own pace” course. There are regularly scheduled deadlines for all assignments and weekly participation is required. You will have weekly discussions and assignments to complete. Some weeks will include more activities than other weeks, since this summer course is a condensed version of the normal course. Time management skills will be essential to maintain progress in the course.

Distance Learning Attendance Policy: For any student enrolled in a distance learning course, participation in the course according to the schedule of events described by the faculty member is considered attendance. A student who does not access the class website during the first week of class, does not take examinations by established due dates, or does not otherwise participate in the distance learning process as outlined by the faculty member is subject to withdrawal.

USE OF TURNITIN:

All writing assignments (the three essays) in this course will be submitted to Turnitin via Canvas. Turnitin generates a report on the originality of your writing by comparing it with a database of periodicals, books, online content, student papers, and other published work. This report can help you discern when you are using sources fairly, citing properly, and paraphrasing effectively -- skills essential to all academic work. Turnitin also generates a report that assesses the possibility that all or part of an essay may have been created through use of artificial intelligence (AI). Understand that submitting work that has clearly been plagiarized or generated through AI intelligence is academic dishonesty. If the Turnitin report indicates the possibility of AI generated work, the instructor may ask you to rework the paper to make sure it is in your word. If an acceptable resubmission is not received in the timeframe allotted, a zero grade will result. (Also refer to Academic Dishonesty Statement, above.

Students agree that by taking this course all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of Turnitin.com page service is subject to the Usage Policy and Privacy Pledge posted on the Turnitin.com site.

It is highly recommended that you submit your paper early enough to review your Turnitin.com report before the final due date of your paper. Then, if necessary, you will have time to ask for help from the instructor or someone at the Writing Center.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS:

You will be submitting three written assignments throughout the semester. The due dates are clearly noted in the course schedule above. Each will cover major themes and issues covered in the textbook and in the class lectures. In each of these assignments, you will argue/take a side on a topic. These written assignments MUST be submitted electronically via Turnitin. Length will range from 3 - 4 pages, double spaced, using 12-point font, with one-inch margins, and page numbers at the bottom center. For reference, one double-spaced page is approximately 250 words, so your papers should be between 750 - 1000 words total.

Email Response:

To contact me via email, from within the course click the People link, then click my name, and then click Send Message button. Emails from all courses can be accessed from the Inbox link. I will contact you via the same e-mail tool as well.

Typically you can expect an email response from me within 24 hours. Weekends and holidays are the exceptions, where a response may take a little longer.

Posting of Grades:

Your instructor will strive to have assignments graded within one week of their submission. However, there will be occasional assignments that may take longer to grade. Your overall course grade in Canvas will update as assignments are graded.
