Methods of Evaluation:

At minimum, the instructor will cover content which aligns with statewide and institutional learning outcomes for the course. The instructor will measure student performance using the following:

A	90-100%
B+	87-89%
B	80-86%
C+	77-79%
C	70-76%
D	60-69%
F	59% and below

F1: Assigned to a student who has attended throughout the entire semester and failed the course.

F2: Assigned to a student who has ceased attending, missed assignment deadlines, or who has been absent beyond the allowable limit (i.e., Not logging on twice a week- remember - just logging on and immediately logging out is not considered "coming to class.")

F3: Assigned to a student who has cheated on an assignment or submitted a plagiarized document.

Evaluations of student progress towards achieving the stated learning outcomes and performance objectives is the responsibility of the instructor, within the policies of the College and the department. Detailed explanations are included in the course supplementals developed by the instructor for each section being taught.

TOTAL	100 percent

Instructor Requirements

- Module Readings – For each Module there is a corresponding reading assignment that you are suggested to have completed before watching that module’s narrated lecture.
- Module Quizzes – Each week (except for exam weeks) you will have a quiz composed of 10 multiple choice and true/false questions that highlight the major ideas and concepts from that week’s module. Each quiz is worth 10 points. The quizzes are worth 10% of your total grade.
- Weekly Discussions – The discussion component of this course is worth 15% of your total grade. You are expected to regularly contribute and participate in these discussions. There is a total of 5 points available for each module’s discussions. Consult the Discussion Grading Rubric located in the Canvas Course Information Module for criteria regarding successfully completing the discussion portion of this course.
- Exams – There will be 3 exams. The exam breakdown is as follows:
 - First Exam (worth 10% of your grade) – Modules 02 – 05
 - Midterm (worth 15% of your grade) – Modules 08 – 09
 - Final Exam (worth 20% of your grade) – Modules 10 – 15

The exams will be 100 points: 40 points are composed of multiple choice & true false questions worth 2 points apiece. The other 60 points are composed of 12 short written answers worth 5 points each that can be answered in 2 – 3 sentences. The exams are timed but are open book open note. You will need to prepare for each test to complete the test in time. We will not be using Proctorio or lockdown browsers.
- Writing Assignments – There are three “formal” writing assignments/essays, that combined are worth 30% of your total grade, where you will be using citation (we will be using the APA citation scheme). You will be given assigned topics and suggested sources for each assignment. Each of the three writing assignments are worth 10% of your total grade apiece.

Due by Thursday, December, 12th 11:59pm

This course is not a "work at your own pace" course. There are regularly scheduled deadlines for all assignments and weekly participation is required. You will have weekly discussions and assignments to complete. Some weeks will include more activities than other weeks. Time management skills will be essential to maintain progress in the course.

Email Response

To contact me via email, from within the course click the People link, then click my name, and then click the Send Message button. Emails from all courses can be accessed from the Inbox link. I will contact you via the same e-mail tool as well.

Typically you can expect an email response from me within 24 hours. Weekends and holidays are the exceptions, where a response may take a little longer.

Posting of Grades

Your instructor will strive to have assignments graded within one week of their submission. However, there will be occasional assignments that may take longer grade. Your overall course grade in Canvas will update as assignments are graded.

Course Participation/Attendance

You must log in regularly, participate, and complete your assignments on time if you wish to be successful in this course. Class participation is an important part of the learning process and is therefore expected of each student. The tracking tool within the course management system will be used to make sure students are accomplishing these tasks. Students who do not regularly log in and complete assignments are not likely to pass the course.

You will be counted absent if you do not log in at least once a week, and if you do not complete all of that week's assignments. Each student is permitted two absences per term. Additional absences will result in a 5% reduction of your total grade at the end of the term.
