| C | 70 - 76% | |
| D | 60 - 69% | |
| F | 00 - 59% | |

Final Grade Calculation:

Quizzes – (Weekly & based on assigned readings / lectures) (25%)

Students are required and assigned to complete one ‘chapter’ quiz each week that will be administered through our online Canvas course that is linked to this online ARH 2000 – Humanities Art course, section, and the assigned open-source text. This weekly assignment will cover lectures, readings, videos, discussion(s) and the cumulative online quiz for the individually assigned ‘chapter’, which is due at the culmination of each week (Sunday, 11:59pm). The Canvas Modules are not subject to change and student must maintain the overall scheduled pace of the course and late work will receive an overall deduction in the potential grade. Any proposed deadline extension must be approved by the instructor prior the assignments due date.

Critical Review Response(s) (25%)

Students are required to submit one Critical Review Response statement regarding the provided prompt each week that outlines their newly learned information, content, and concepts. Students must provide their own created content based upon the assigned readings, discussions, and other coursework throughout the course.

Reflection Discussion Board (40%)

Students are required to contribute one self-reflection-based discussion posting each week that is directly connected to the content covered in that assigned Module(s). The Reflection Discussion Board postings must remain aligned with the assigned weekly chapter readings and content, but should also reflect the individual student’s personal experiences, perspectives, associations, opinions and thoughts related to this content. The student’s goal is to establish a thoughtful and considered link to the Module(s) content and its relatability to contemporary society. Students should also provide mindful and measured judgement when submitting to the required postings and when responding to their peers each week. The required responses you are to contribute to the provided Reflection Discussion Board each week, is a total of two.

Final Exam (10%)

The Final Exam will be fully comprehensive to the ARH 2000 – Humanities Art course. The exam is based on the weekly quizzes and course content. No late submissions of the Final Exam for the course will be accepted.

Student Expectations: Students enrolled in this course can expect the following:

1. clearly identified course objectives;
2. productive class meetings;
3. a positive learning environment;
4. opportunities for appropriate student participation;
5. effective instruction;
6. positive and appropriate interactions;
7. assistance with meeting course objectives during and beyond class hours;
8. evaluation of student performance and appropriate and timely feedback; and
9. clear and well-organized instruction.

General Education Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Critical Thinking: The student analyzes, evaluates, and, if necessary, challenges the validity of ideas, principles, or data in order to develop informed opinions, probable predictions, or defensible conclusions.
2. Communication: The student effectively communicates knowledge and ideas.
3. Cultural Literacy: The student demonstrates an understanding of human culture and its diversity.

Course Learning Outcomes: In this course, students will develop an appreciation of and the ability to think critically about culture and be provided with the tools to understand, analyze, and discuss works of visual art and material culture.

5. Explain the difference of works of art ranging from the ancient world to contemporary art.

Attendance / Tardiness / Withdrawal: Students are required to attend and actively engage in the course each week and maintain an appropriate amount of participation in the presented materials and discussions. Being present, alert, contributive, and involved in the coursework is required and not limited to any individual course meeting format. The following attendance policy has been implemented in the best interest of the student and is in accordance with the PSC Attendance Policy detailed in the Student Handbook.

"Attendance" is mandatory, even in an online class. You are required to log into the course at least twice a week and participate. Class participation is an important part of the learning process and is therefore expected of each student. Logging in and then immediately logging out is not "coming to class" and will not be counted as attendance. You must log in and participate; read and respond to the discussions posted, review the lecture notes and PowerPoints, participate in the practice activities, check your course email, etc.

The analytics tool within the course management system will be used to make sure students are accomplishing these tasks. Students who do not attend during the first week of class may be withdrawn.

Late Submissions / Assignment(s): Any assignments submitted after the assigned due date(s) are / maybe subject to point deductions at the discretion of the Instructor.

[F] Grade Assigned Early: A grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, may be assigned by an instructor before the end of the term, in any of the following circumstances.

After the 70th percent point of a course, an instructor may assign an F, which will appear on the permanent record, to a student who has stopped attending class.

An instructor may assign a grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, at any point during the term for the student who has plagiarized or committed academic cheating of any kind.

An instructor may assign a grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, at any point during the term for the student who stops attending a course being attempted for the third time.

Academic Dishonesty Statement: Pensacola State College is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic conduct. All forms of academic dishonesty, to include plagiarism and cheating, are prohibited. Penalties for academic dishonesty include but are not limited to one or more of the following: the awarding of no credit on the assignment, a reduction in the course grade, or the assignment of a final course grade of F and removal from the course. Student Email Accounts: Pensacola State College provides an institutional email account to all students enrolled in courses for credit. PirateMail is the official method of communication, and students must use PirateMail when communicating with the College. In cases where companion software is used for a particular class, email may be exchanged between instructor and student using the companion software.

Flexibility: It is the intention of the instructor to accomplish the objectives specified in the course syllabus. However, circumstances may arise which prohibit the fulfilling of this endeavor. Therefore, this syllabus is subject to change. When possible, students will be notified of any change in advance of its occurrence.

Americans with Disabilities: Students with a disability that qualifies under the American with Disabilities Act (ADAAA) are encouraged to contact the Student Resource Center for ADA Services. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact SRC/ADA if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies. SRC/ADA is located in building 6, room 603, ADA-services@pensacolastate.edu, 850-484-1637. Students may also complete the online intake form in the ADA Services app within the PSC apps.

Equity Statement: Pensacola State College does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, color, gender/sex, age, religion, marital status, pregnancy, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or genetic information in its educational programs, activities, or employment. For inquiries regarding Title IX and the College's nondiscrimination policies, contact the Executive Director, Equal Opportunity Compliance at (850) 484-1759, Pensacola State College, 1000 College Blvd., Pensacola, Florida 32504.

Security Statement: Pensacola State College is committed to encouraging all members of the College community to be proactive in personal safety measures. In case of emergency, students should ensure that they are aware of the building exit closest to each of their classrooms, as well as all alternative building exits in case circumstances require using a different route.

Emergency Statement: In the case of severe weather or other emergency, the College administration maintains communication with appropriate state and local agencies and makes a determination regarding the cancellation of classes. Notices of cancellation will be made through the College's PSC Alert system and on the College's website.
