

PRESIDENT'S 2022
Annual REPORT

President's Message

Dr. Ed Meadows, President, Pensacola State College

HELLO FRIENDS, SUPPORTERS, AND COLLEAGUES,

The 2022-2023 academic year was a banner year for Pensacola State College. Construction began in June on the Bear, Jones, Moore, and Reeves Center for Math and Advanced Technology. The facility — Phase II of the Mary Ellison Baars building replacement — will be completed in Fall 2023.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony for the PSC Truck Driving Training Facility in the Santa Rosa Industrial Park East occurred in September. With the new 13,000-square-foot commercial driver's license (CDL) training and testing facility and driving range in our CDL program, the College will be able to increase student capacity.

The College also received numerous accolades:

- U.S. News and World Report listed our online Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program among the best in Florida and the U.S. for the fourth consecutive year. In the publication's "Best Online Bachelor's Programs 2022 Edition," the program was ranked second among Florida College System institutions, fifth among all Florida colleges and universities, and 47th in the nation.

- For the 13th consecutive year, the College was selected as a 2022 Military Friendly® School by Victory Media. PSC was one of 282 schools to earn the "Gold" status.

- Pensacola State was named in the top 25 as a best public college or university in the southeast by Military Times in the publication's 2022 "Best for Vets: Colleges" edition. The College was ranked nationally in the top 100 among public schools in the U.S.

Last year, the PSC Foundation completed a historic three-year capital campaign – raising $12.6 million. Our initial goal was $11 million, but we surpassed that with commitments from 1,329 generous donors.

In September, "The Game Plan" campaign was announced – the first PSC Athletics capital campaign in recent history. The capital campaign will target general support, facilities, the new construction of a soccer complex, and scholarship endowments.

Plans are to create a top-tier soccer complex on the Pensacola campus with bleachers, a concession stand, locker room, press box, scoreboard, and more. The College fielded a women's soccer team in Fall 2023.

Other major funding initiatives include constructing an Academic Success Center for student-athletes and an Athletic Training Center.

In 1948, the College opened in Aiken Boarding House on Palafox Street with 136 students. Since then, Pensacola State has awarded more than 120,000 degrees and certificates to graduates.

As we celebrate our 75th year, the College remains committed to transforming the futures of our students and their families. Along with small classes and highly-qualified faculty, PSC offers postsecondary education at an affordable price.

Last year, students received over $30 million in scholarships, financial aid, and grants, resulting in a 95 percent graduating class that was loan-free.

PSC continues to offer flexible schedules with day, night, face-to-face, online, and hybrid classes. We meet students where they are, whether on our Pensacola, Milton, or Warrington campuses or at Century, South Santa Rosa, or the Santa Rosa Industrial Park East centers.

In closing, thank you to all of the donors, friends and supporters of Pensacola State College. Your unwavering support is so very much appreciated.

Go, Pirates!

Sincerely,

Edward Meadows

TRIUMPH GULF COAST AWARDS PSC $11.9 MILLION GRANT

Pensacola State College was awarded a nearly $12 million grant to fund construction of Phase II of the replacement of the Mary Ellison Baars building, which was demolished in 2019.

The $11,998,919 grant comes from Triumph Gulf Coast, the organization charged by the state of Florida with distributing the $1.5 billion settlement from BP following the 2010 oil spill.

Money from the grant will help fund the 46,133-square-foot Bear, Jones, Moore and Reeves center for Math and Advanced Technology construction, which will be home to Cybersecurity/IT programs and other high-tech fields. Funds also will be used to purchase equipment, supplies, certificate and student fee waivers, recruiting, technology and salaries for Cybersecurity/IT programs.

The building's name pays tribute to four prominent Pensacola families who have collectively given $1 million to fund STEM-related scholarships at the College.

The Bear, Jones, Moore and Reeves center for Math and Advanced Technology is estimated to cost between $22 million and $25 million. Funding is also provided by the state, which previously gave the College $15.4 million for the construction project and is expected to commit another $3.5 million later this year.

The grant requires PSC Cybersecurity/IT programs to issue at least 6,448 industry-recognized CAPE certificates over a 10-year period. The grant will be paid over a three-year period.

WOMEN'S SOCCER PROGRAM RECEIVES $2,000 NJCAA FOUNDATION GRANT

Pensacola State College's new women's soccer program received a boost from the NJCAA Foundation in 2022.

The program — which is scheduled to field its first team in fall 2023 — was awarded a $2,000 NJCAA Sport Opportunity Grant. Awarded based on need and allotted funding, the grant is available for NJCAA member colleges to apply as they expand sport offerings at their institution while increasing student-athlete access and achievement. PSC Athletic Director, Bryan Lewallyn, said the grant will assist with initial startup costs for the program — uniforms, balls, nets, or other equipment.

Brian Luckett, NJCAA Foundation Executive Director, said the organization is excited to further support the growth of NJCAA member colleges and the sport programs they offer through the newly-created grant.

The soccer team will be the second women's athletic program the College has added in recent years and will compete at the Division II level. In 2019, a women's cross-country team joined the roster of PSC athletic programs.

GAME PLAN

★ ATHLETICS CAMPAIGN ★

Bates

In September, Pensacola State President Ed Meadows and PSC Athletics Hall of Fame inductee, Doug Bates, announced the “Game Plan” – the first PSC Athletics capital campaign in recent history.

Targeting general support, facilities, new construction and endowments, the capital campaign plans include the construction of a top-tier soccer complex on the Pensacola campus – complete with bleachers, a concession stand, locker room, press box, scoreboard, and more.

The College will field a women’s soccer team in Fall 2023.

Other major funding initiatives include constructing an Academic Success Center and an Athletic Training Center for student-athletes, emphasizing nutrition, locker rooms for volleyball, cross-country, and softball batting cages.

“We’re going to make you even more proud of PSC than you are now,” Bates said.

“Our mission now is to go out into the community and let everyone know that this is where they need to invest.”

Also, the “Game Plan” will offer naming opportunities – ranging from $10,000 to $2 million — for new structures and some existing athletic facilities. Donors also can give to specific teams or certain facilities/structures.

“We’re going to make this a special place,” Bates said. “This will be a facility to match a championship program.”

PSC STUDENT-ATHLETES MOVE TO NEXT LEVEL

Sixteen Pensacola State College student-athletes signed National Letters of Intent on April 29 committing to play and study at colleges and universities that range from NAIA schools to Division 1 programs. The signees and the schools are: Softball: Avery Beauchaine, Eckerd College, and Cameron Buzzell, Lynn University;

Mark Yepishin was named the team's first coach. Assistant coaches are former Pensacola High School head coach, Paul Fernandez, and Valentina Duque, a former member of the Columbian National Team.

Four other Florida College Systems institutions — Eastern Florida, Daytona, Polk and Pasco-Hernando state colleges — have women's soccer teams. Lewallyn said the Pirates will compete against those FCS schools and colleges in Mississippi, Georgia, Louisiana and Tennessee.

In 2022, Pensacola State received a $2,000 NJCAA Sport Opportunity Grant — available for NJCAA member colleges to apply as they expand sports offerings while increasing student-athlete access and achievement. The grant funds were used to purchase soccer balls for the program.

In early 2022, Pensacola State College announced the formation of a women's soccer team. The new PSC athletics team, with 18 to 22 student-athletes, is expected to start play during the fall semester.

For the inaugural season, PSC home games will be played at Ashton Brosnham Sports Complex with a practice field on the Pensacola campus next to the tennis courts. A permanent soccer complex and field will eventually be built to host home games.

CARLA WILLIAMS INDUCTED INTO PSC ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME

Pensacola State College Athletic director, Bryan Lewallyn, said Carla Williams might be “the best ever Pirate to come through our halls.”

An outstanding basketball player, coach, scholar, educator, and mentor, Williams was the only Pirate inducted in the 2022 Pensacola State College Athletic Hall of Fame during a ceremony held Sept. 27 in the Hartsell Arena.

Williams died in May 2022 as a result of domestic violence. Following her death, the Carla Williams Memorial Endowed Scholarship was established to help lift, inspire, and support PSC student-athletes now and long into the future.

An associate professor at the College, Williams spent more than 24 years working in PSC’s athletic programs, Collegiate High, and the Mathematics and Computer Science Department.

An academic and athletic standout at Graceville High School, Williams led the school to a state championship in 1992. After high school, Williams played two years at PSC, where she was selected to All-Academic, All-Conference and All-Region teams both years. After PSC, Williams played and excelled at Florida State University.

The 22 feet 6 inches tall and 15 feet wide pieces are installed on the southeast wall of Chadbourne Library.

The other reproductions are:

• "Horse and Boats," 1883 and "A Sunday on La Grande Jatte," 1884, George Seurat. Both are on the east wall of the Lou Ross Center, facing the track area.

• "Fruit Still Life," Robert Seldon Duncanson, 1849. South wall of Building 4.

• "The Boating Party," Marry Cassatt, 1893. South wall of Building 4.

Four other art pieces were installed in November:

• "Great Wave Offshore at Kanagawa," Katsushika Hokusai, 1831. West wall of Building 4

• "Nighthawks," Edward Hopper, 1942. West wall of Building 8.

• "Vase of Flowers," Jan Davidsz. de Heem, 1670. North wall of Building 14.

• "The Railway," Edouard Manet, 1873. South wall of Building 14.

The artworks — made from recycled materials — were produced and installed by Lamar Advertising, a partner in the Outdoor Gallery with the PSC Visual Arts Department.

GROUND BROKEN ON PENSACOLA STATE STEM FACILITY

Ground was broken June 8 on Phase II of Pensacola State College's STEM facility — the Bear, Jones, Moore, and Reeves Center for Math and Advanced Technology.

Site work on the 46,133-square-foot facility — estimated to cost between $22 million to $25 million — began in January. The building is tentatively scheduled for completion by late 2023.

The building's name pays tribute to four Pensacola families — the Bear Family Foundation, Jo and Bill Jones, the late Pete Moore Family and Jim Reeves — who have collectively given $1 million to fund STEM-related scholarships at the College.

Phase I — the Baars Technology Building — officially opened in April 2021. The $15 million 23,839-square-foot building is home to STEM programs such as cybersecurity, computer science, and math.

The facility will also include a third-floor connector linking Phase I and II buildings. A rooftop terrace also is included in the construction plan.

Along with state funding, a nearly $12 million grant will be used to fund the construction of Phase II. The $11,998,919 grant comes from Triumph Gulf Coast, the organization charged by the state of Florida with distributing the $1.5 billion settlement from BP stemming from the 2010 oil spill.

The State of Florida previously gave the College $15.4 million for the project and was expected to commit another $3.5 million.

The grant will also be used to purchase equipment, supplies, certificate and student fee waivers, recruiting, technology, and salaries for Cybersecurity/IT programs.

Dr. Meadows praised the state and local legislative delegation and Triumph Gulf Coast for appropriating funds for the facility.

Florida Architects designed the Phase I and Phase II buildings. Ajax Corp was the Phase I general contractor. The Morette Company is the Phase II general contractor.

TRUCK DRIVER TRAINING FACILITY RIBBON CUTTING

Pensacola State College officially cut the ribbon on its newest site, the Truck Driver Training Facility, on Sept. 20. Located at 5957 Jeff Ates Road in the Santa Rosa Industrial Park East in Milton, the $7.8 million Truck Driver Training Facility is home to the College's Commercial Vehicle Driver Vocational Certificate Program. Since Spring 2021, 69 students have completed the truck driving training program and earned commercial driver's licenses. The College started the program in 2019. Pictured are

The College's longest-service District Board of Trustees member Carol Carlan, president of the Ascension Sacred Heart Foundation, was the keynote speaker at the Spring Commencement Ceremony held May 8 in the Pensacola Bay Center.

"Continue to grow and develop yourself. You are never too old to learn," said Carlan, a PSC alumna and CEO of Carlan Consulting.

"Donate! Donate your time, your talents, your resources, and your imagination to leave something better than you found it. Giving back is something important to building pride in who you are."

Charles Schuler, PSC humanities and social sciences professor, served as the ceremony's Grand Marshal. Michael Payne, assistant professor of business, and Kenneth Phillips, the Performing Arts department head, were Faculty Marshals. Jennifer Hill Faron, dean of the Milton campus, and Karen McCabe, principal of Pensacola State College Charter Academy, were Student Marshals.

Lumberjack Festival

LUMBERJACK FEST BRINGS CROWD TO MILTON CAMPUS

The 33rd Annual Lumberjack Festival and Northwest Florida Forestry Conclave held Oct. 8 attracted visitors far and wide.

"We heard about the Lumberjack Festival here and had to come out to see," said Beth Stern and her husband, Will, as they walked around the festival. In 2022, the couple moved to Santa Rosa County from Wisconsin.

"Where we're from is real lumberjack territory."

The Lumberjack Festival featured dozens of competitors in events ranging from Axe Throw and Bow Sawing to Pole Toss and Compass and Pacing.

The morning started with the Second Annual Lumberjack Open Cross-Country Tournament, which featured boys and girls high school competition and a women's college competition where the PSC cross-country team finished first and had four of the top five finishers, including the top three spots.

"Our team did really well," said PSC Cross-Country Coach Julie Burger. "I'm proud of all of them."

There was also a children's area with games, face painting, arts and crafts vendors, and food trucks.

The second annual Lumberjack Launch disc golf tournament also occurred at the Milton campus on Oct. 7. Flight Factory sponsored the tourney.

The Pensacola State College women's cross-country team finished first and had four of the top five finishers, including the top three spots in the Second Annual Lumberjack Open Cross-Country Tournament.

PSC runners Kaydee Cook, Jabria Davis, Tatiana Floyd, AnaMaria Yanas and Emmalei Miller are pictured with Chipola State College team members.

WSRE PBS serves the Mobile-Pensacola media market with multiplatform delivery of award-winning local productions, trusted PBS programming and the No. 1 educational media brand for children, PBS KIDS. WSRE also broadcasts Create and World channels, and a fifth over-the-air channel – WSRE Connect – is now in development to offer local programs in the future.

LEARNING MEDIA FOR FAMILIES AND SCHOOLS

With anytime-anywhere digital access, the station's on-demand viewership has grown exponentially. The station's largest streaming audience is made of up families watching WSRE PBS KIDS and using the PBS KIDS app for learning activities and games on the go.

WSRE PBS KIDS averaged 36,660 local users per month and 804,000 monthly streams across digital platforms in 2022.

WSRE's online educational resources are also gaining ground in local classrooms. Florida PBS LearningMedia provides local teachers and students with standards-aligned lesson plans and thousands of historical video clips, images and primary source documents to enhance instruction.

To help teachers prepare for the new school year, the station hosted 300 social studies, history, and civics teachers for the Florida Department of Education's Summer Civics Development Workshop in June, and provided online professional development activities focused on updated PBS LearningMedia collections over the summer months.

Each spring, WSRE brings the community together for a free, family-fun event focused on early learning, health and safety, and the neighborly values of Mister Rogers and Daniel Tiger.

Following two years of cancellation due to the pandemic, Be My Neighbor Day returned to the Jean and Paul Amos Performance Studio on April 23 with more than 30 community organizations taking part.

Food donations were collected for Manna Food Pantries, and children were encouraged to come in costume as their favorite PBS KIDS characters. Indoors, a "Daniel Tiger's Neighborhood" matinee marathon was shown on the big screen – movie theater style – in addition to a costume parade, story time and performances by Pensacola Children's Chorus and Mixon Magic Performing Arts.

Outdoors, exhibitors offered children's activities and information for families. Exhibits included the Escambia County Sheriff's Office Mounted Posse, the Pensacola Police Department K-9 Unit and new Blue Angels themed vehicle, a Pensacola Fire Department fire engine, and Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission's educational display.

LOCAL PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS

The new local program “Connecting the Community” debuted in February, spotlighting a variety of cultural interests. Director, Community and Special Initiatives, Dr. Rameca Vincent Leary, is the show’s producer and host, covering cause-related and community-based programs with a variety of perspectives from her guests.

The premiere episode focused on veterans and commemorated the legacy of Gen. Daniel “Chappie” James Jr.

In its third season, the station’s increasingly popular horror film series “Nightmare Theatre” was picked up by Alabama PBS. The series is also airing on WFSU in Tallahassee; East Tennessee PBS (WETP) in Knoxville, Tenn.; WGCU in Fort Myers; WJCT in Jacksonville; Nashville Public Television (WNPT) in Nashville, Tenn.; and WTCL in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Production of “Conversations with Jeff Weeks” returned in the fall with a new show logo, set design, graphics and animation. The brand refresh of this long-running series debuted with interviews featuring author Clint Crockett, election supervisors David Stafford and Tappie Villane, mayor-elect D.C. Reeves, musician Peter Keys, PBS Food host Alejandra Ramos, attorney Troy Rafferty and actor Dale Dye.

The station also created new branding for its music series “StudioAmped” and hosted five fall concerts: Royal Horses, Lex and the Luthors, Jessie Ritter, Stormfolk and the Pensacola Beach Songwriters Festival show featuring Donna Britton Bukevicz, Dani Carroll and Peter Keys. The performances were recorded for future broadcast.

In its 13th season, “StudioAmped” showcases the original music of regional bands and artists. In conjunction with the series, WSRE and the Pensacola Beach Songwriters Festival teamed up to host a songwriting workshop for Pace Center for Girls.

Students from the Pace Center program joined Nashville songwriters Anne Buckle, Tim Buppert, Caitlin Evanson and Jerry Vandiver on campus to learn about the art of songwriting and write a song together.

CONNECTING THE COMMUNITY

STUDIOAMPED

DEVELOPMENT AND ENGAGEMENT

The station relies on community support of the WSRE-TV Foundation for its programs, productions, and the capital needed to meet the constant demands of innovation in communications technology.

Funds are raised locally through member donations, corporate underwriting, and special events.

After two years of cancellation, the 32nd WSRE PBS Wine & Food Classic returned with a fiesta themed soirée, featuring 10 local chefs and music by the band Nobius, at the Studer Community Institute Building on Oct. 15 along with The Great American Brunch, presented by Kingfisher Chef Brian Kaderavek, on Oct. 16. Guest celebrity chef Alejandra Ramos, host of “The Great American Recipe” on PBS, headlined both events.

In June, an Online Auction and Broadcast helped the station reach financial goals by fiscal-year-end. Local businesses donated auction items and provided corporate support for two live broadcast events.
